GENERAL DEBILITY.

MR. A. N. HOLT DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS, ON WEST BROADWAY.

Mr. Albin N. Holt, aged 81, died at 1 o'clock this morning at the residence of his son, Representative J. P. Holt, on West Broadway, after a long illness.

The deceased was born in Montgomery county, Tenn., September 13, 1820, and came to McCracken county nineteen years later. In 1881 he was married to Miss Malvina Rhew, who survives him.

Mr. Holt was a highly respected man and had held several offices in the county. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and a Mason.

The funeral will take place at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Burial at New Hope cemetery, in the county.

LONG DISTANCE.

THE CUMBERLAND COMPANY TO BUILD THREE NEW

Lines Into Paducah—Will Go Direct to Louisville Over the Illinois Central Poles—Also to Paris, Tennessee.

The Cumberland Telephone company, which now operates the line in Paducah formerly owned by the East Tennessee, is undoubtedly a hustler, and its activity is already beginning to be felt here.

In the early spring it will begin the construction of three long distance lines to come into Paducah. One will come from Louisville to Paducah, one from Paducah to Paris, Tenn., and the other from Elizabethtown, Ky., through Shawneetown, Ill., to Metropolis, thence over the company's line into Paducah.

Work will begin as soon as the weather settles, and will probably require three months to complete it, forces of men working simultaneously on all lines.

The line to Louisville will be strung on the Illinois Central poles, and the one to Paris, Tenn., over the N. C. & St. L. poles.

The new service will give Paducah telephone communication with all the big cities in the country, and the best part of it is that the rates will all be cheap.

By midsummer, according to Manager Joynes, the three new lines will be in operation.

COMMISSIONERS QUALIFY.
The committee appointed to redistrict the county began work at the county court house this morning.

SHORT LIVED

James Berry Will Get Out of One Prison Into Another.

HE IS NOW AT EDDYVILLE

He Completes a Two Year Sentence Friday and Will be Arrested For Postoffice Robbery.

THE WARRANT ARRIVED TODAY

If James Berry, convict of two years standing in the Eddyville penitentiary, has been cherishing hopes of freedom to come when his term expires Friday morning at 6 o'clock, he is destined to sore disappointment.

This morning Deputy U. S. Marshal La Rue received a government warrant charging Berry with burglarizing the United States postoffice at Cranesville, Crittenden county, about two years ago. Tomorrow Deputy La Rue will go up to Eddyville and when Berry steps out will arrest him on the warrant received today.

The prisoner is one of the three tramps who broke into the postoffice and general merchandise store at Cranesville, and were captured not far away. They stole $60 in money and $13 worth of stamps.

They were incarcerated in the Marion jail, and when Deputy La Rue went after them on the more serious charge of breaking into the postoffice, the civil authorities refused to give them up.

Before the convening of court two of them escaped and have never been heard of since, but Berry pleaded guilty to housebreaking and was let off with a two year sentence. He has served this and will be discharged Friday and promptly rearrested by the federal authorities.

He will be brought to Paducah Friday afternoon and his examining trial take place some time next week before U. S. Commissioner J. R. Puryear.

TRAMPS RELEASED.

THEY WERE ON THEIR WAY TO NEW ORLEANS TO BE SAILORS.

John Phelan and Wm. Boyd, the tramps sealed in an Illinois Central box car yesterday, and arrested when they reached the city, were presented before Judge Sanders this morning.

Phelan said he lived in Troy, Ind., and was on his way to New Orleans to ship on some steam vessel and become a sailor.

Boyd's home is in Pennsylvania, and meeting Phelan at Henderson they decided to go together. There was no evidence to show that they broke into the box car, and they were asked how long it would take them to get out of town. They replied "not very long," and were given one hour.

CREATED TROUBLE

UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF NEW ZEAL SECRETS WERE TOLD OUT OF SCHOOL.

Sioux Falls, S. D. telegram: Information reaches here of a peculiar state of affairs existing in a town on the Burlington railroad north of Sioux Falls.

It appears that a prominent evangelist visited the town and had wonderful success in securing new converts. Among those reclaimed was a noted female character of the town. The woman was in dead earnest, and the church members considered her conversion one of the chief events of the revival meetings.

This proved to be so, but not in the way expected. At one of the meetings, after the woman had renounced her former ways and declared her purpose to start life anew, the minister took occasion to remind the class of converts that an open confession was good for the soul. The woman in question, taking the evangelist at his word, proceeded to "cut loose" in a manner that has rent the town asunder.

The woman told of her many sins and implicated a dozen or fifteen of the leading citizens. The married women of the congregation, who at first had listened listlessly to her story, suddenly became deeply interested and began a more systematic line of investigation as to further and corroborative details. As a result of this particular instance of open confession being good for the soul, an editor, a banker and several prominent merchants are the defendants in suits in the divorce courts or are about to be.

CIRCUIT COURT

"TEX" SPRAGUE SUIT NOW ON TRIAL BEFORE THE JUDGE.

Vernon Blewett Wants $2,000 Damages—Mrs. Richey Wins—Other Court Notes.

An interesting case now on trial before Judge Husbands is that of Vernon Blewett against "Tex" Sprague, for $2,000 damages. The case was brought here on a change of venue from Marshall county, where both men reside.

The two men, it will be remembered, had a difficulty two years or more ago and Blewett was cut by Sprague, who was tried and fined $500 for it. They fell out, it seems, over some stock, and Blewett came near dying from his wounds.

There was other trouble growing out of the fight, and Sprague was charged with having shot through a window at Lee Walters, one of the principal witnesses, and fined $75 and costs for it.

After the criminal prosecution Blewett sued Sprague for $2,000 damages, and this is the suit now on trial. It may not be finished before tomorrow evening.

In the suit of Mrs. Sarah E. Richey against the Sun Life Insurance company, for $108 on a policy, a verdict was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for that amount.

The Tobe Dennis lunacy case will be tried tomorrow in the circuit court.

Messrs. W. B. Weeks and W. J. Wihe were excused from the jury and Messrs. Thomas Clayton and George Ingram substituted.

THE MCGREGOR FAMILY.

From Benton Democrat.
Mr. J. M. McGregor and his sons, nine in number, were in town last Saturday. It is certainly an interesting family, composed of nine boys, three daughters and the father, the mother having died several years ago.

The family met together last week for the first time in life, several of the older boys having married and settled themselves before the youngest child was born, there being a difference of thirty years in the age of the eldest and youngest child.

The father and nine sons came to Benton last Saturday and had the photographer make their pictures in a group. They were also weighed, and the weight of each and their names will appear below: The father, J. M. McGregor, 149½; W. E., 151; J. M., 159½; R. W., 144; J. G., 154½; J. D., 168; J. G., 161½; H. A., 157½; T. M., 152; Hardy, 155. Total weight, 1,552½. They are all living in Marshall county on farms, except W. E. McGregor, who resided in Caldwell county, near Princeton.

NEW SENATORS CHOSEN.
New York, Jan. 16.—The Pennsylvania legislature yesterday made certain the election today of Hon. M. S. Quay as senator. Thomas M. Patterson, a fusionist, was chosen for senator by the Colorado legislature, to succeed Senator Wolcott. H. E. Burnham, Republican, was named as senator by a separate ballot of the two houses of the New Hampshire legislature, and in joint session today the act was confirmed. The Massachusetts legislature in a like manner re-elected Hon. G. F. Hoar for senator. Senator Jas. McMillan was re-elected by the Michigan legislature yesterday. A deadlock prevails in the Delaware legislature, with results uncertain. The Nebraska legislature also balloted yesterday for senator, but without result.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 16.—Quay had three votes to spare in his senatorial fight. His commission is already made out and will be presented at once.

Senator Quay left today for Washington and expects to be sworn in tomorrow.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 16.—E. W. Carmack, who was virtually chosen yesterday, was easily elected United States senator.

WAR'S WRINKLED FRONT.

Manila, Jan. 16.—There is a better feeling now among military men here. The numerous surrenders are the chief cause of the prevailing optimism.

The only districts that show pronounced resistance now are Southern Luzon, Northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bonol. Judge Taft of the commission announced that the suggestion of the Central Catholics, that none but native teachers be employed in the public schools, would not be acceptable to the commission.

IS GROWING VERY WARM.

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The people of Kentucky owe a debt to themselves and to their state this year that all classes and parties should consider a weighty question.

They will be called upon to elect the members of the legislature. Little attention has been paid to this important insignificant office in the past, nevertheless it is the most important duty that can devolve upon the citizens to see that good, honest, straightforward men are selected this time.

The fair name of the state of Kentucky has been trailed in the dirt for the last three years; the time has come when a traveler hesitates sometimes to say that he is from Kentucky. No one can imagine the odium that is attached to Kentucky, politically, until he assumes the roll of an outsider and hears the unfavorable comment; it is then he realizes that something must be done to redeem our grand and glorious state and to assume that honored place amongst the states that was always accorded to Kentucky.

The way to do this is to select the best men to represent us in the legislature at the next session. Men who are not chronic office seekers should for this time sacrifice themselves for their state in the same light that men volunteer their services for their country in time of war.

The next legislature will be the most important political body that has been selected in Kentucky since the constitutional convention was held. The state is to be divided into legislative and congressional districts; a new and absolute fair election law should be passed; and a United States senator is to be elected. These things ought to arouse enough interest among the business community to insure the selection of the best men.

A state senator is to be elected and the people should see that none but capable, sensible business men are selected for this place. The state senate should be a representative body of men. The Sun is sorry to acknowledge that this senatorial district has been very much misinterpreted in times past, and it is to be hoped that the people will see that a good man is selected for the place.

This is one time that, to avoid a repetition of the history of the past two years, the people owe a debt to their state that demands enough of their time to make a careful selection, and when a man is found who will honestly and impartially represent the district and county, he should be persuaded to sacrifice enough of his time to make the race and serve his state. In the selection of a representative and state senator, all lovers of honesty and fair play should unite and co-operate. The first step should be to unite all forces opposed to ring rule, machine politics, dishonest elections, and aid in putting forward men who are known to be fit and capable and relegate chronic office seekers and political tricksters to the rear.

The Sun again urges the importance of selecting the best men in the community to the next legislature.

The new election law which is to supersede the infamous Goebel election law will go into effect January 19. Under the new law the state election board, are selected on the recommendation of each of the two big parties. The law provides that these two commissioners "shall be appointed by the governor of the state from names designated in writing, if any are so designated, by each of the state central committees of the two political parties that polled the largest vote at the preceding election." The third member of the board is to be the clerk of the court of appeals.

T. M. Patterson, who will be one of the senators from Colorado, by grace of a coalition, is the editor of the Rocky Mountain News.

A successful politician must stand for some of the principles of the party from which he expects to receive support.

The war department is pleased over the reports from the Philippines. The rebellion, according to these reports, is going to pieces rapidly.

David B. Hill has been invited to address the legislature of Texas upon the issues of the day, and he has promised to comply. Hill clearly has let it escape his mind that Bryan vent several times to Texas on a "wind jamming" visit.

The steamship subsidy bill is finding the way rough. But it will safely land in spite of the wouldbe wreckers. A movement containing such vast possibilities of benefit to the nation can't be defeated. Justice always rules in the end.

The facts being brought out relative to the hazing and other practices at West Point detract from whatever credit formerly attached to being a scholar or graduate of the school. Thugism and general degradation seem the chief curriculum in late years.

An office being in sight, many men now posing as true patriots, were counted scoundrels in their party a few years since. These remarks, of course, are not a reflection upon any Republican, for there is no one of this faith as yet a candidate for any of the places to be filled next November.

It is evident some papers are willing to be faked. An instance is the way the alleged mysterious lynching near Paducah is being worked by irresponsible correspondents and the gullibility of the papers taking such stuff. There has been no lynching near Paducah.

This is a timely warning at least. Says a physician of St. Louis: "If you don't want the grip, don't kiss." In explanation this pill dispenser declares that kissing is one of the surest ways that grip is communicated, and that it is merely by accident that one escapes the malady after kissing a person who is affected. "The peculiar rapidity with which grip travels," said he, "makes it necessary to use all the more sense." It's either a black eye to occlusion or an increase of grip. Who is afraid of a gripper?

There is indeed a great responsibility upon a man in office. This point may be made to adorn this tale: A Mayor who swears to enforce law is a greater dodger than the police he names, by the authority he has, to make arrests for breaking these very laws. As has been strongly said: "For criminal negligence in preventing and detecting crime the police are less to blame than those in control of them, who pander to criminals and make companionship of vice in the operation of their corrupt political machine." An honest and faithful officer has a sinecure.

WORKED A FAKE

THE SUN'S IDEA OF THE NEGRO HANGING WAS CORRECT.

Story Started by a Practical Metropolis Prank Player Who is Exposed.

In regard to the "negro hanging" hoax exploited so by some of the other papers for the past two days, the Metropolis Herald of Monday says: "Take the average resident of East Metropolis and you will find a practical joker of the first water. It is an easy matter for any of these Mammoth boys to find a victim outside their own class, but one who can take in and play it on one of his kind has done something worthy of record.

"Now there is 'Fox' Davis, the baseball player. You would hardly expect him to be the king among the joke players of East Metropolis, but the success with which his 'fake' of last Sunday worked, entitles him to that honor, and would doubtless secure for him a place on the reporter's staff of the New York World or Chicago American. It was sensational, sensational.

"Fox was across the river Saturday and while returning home in his skiff his thoughts were busy as to how he could play it on all boys for a Sunday diversion. He had read in the Herald of the brutal beating of a woman in Paducah by a negro, and that the negro was at large with a posse after him. He smiled and the waves understood and smiled back at Fox.

"With all soberness, and without the hint of a smile, Fox met the boys Saturday night and told them of a remarkable find just across the river near the mouth of the layon. He had been passing through the brush when suddenly he came face to face with a negro swinging from a limb, suspended by a rope around the man's neck. The belting eyes, swollen face and protruding tongue; horrors, it made Fox's hair stand on end and froze him to the spot. Recovering from the fright, partially, with tottering step and quaking knees, Fox retreated to his boat and pulled for Metropolis. Yes, the man could be found easily. Just across the river, back about a quarter on the right hand side of the layon, swinging to a sycamore limb. No, thanks, he didn't want to see that face again, it would haunt him in his slumbers now.

"The story was told and Fox quietly repaired to the stove factory where he could back his back by the furnace fire and watch the procession of skulls which started for the Kentucky shore early Sunday morning and kept going until there was nothing afloat left on this side of the river.

"Fox had had his fun at the expense of the other fellows and they accepted it as all true sports should. We haven't heard from the Paducah officials but probably they enjoyed it too, as doubtless they had a goodly supply of the boat's namesake on board."

J. A. Lambert, of Rachel, N. C. writes: "I heartily endorse FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. It does what you claim it will do, and there is nothing equal to it, and I thank you for the good it has done me." J. C. Gilbert.

The Kentucky delegation in the house will unanimously recommend the Hon. J. N. Kehoe, of the Ninth district, as Mr. Berry's successor on the rivers and harbors committee.

SAVE doctor's bills by giving FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR to infants and children in time to prevent pneumonia or croup, which are fatal to so many thousands of BABIES. J. C. Gilbert.

IN THOUGHFUL MOMENTS.

That individual who lives alone for self, if stupid, is an object of pity; if intelligent, an object of censure. It does not seem possible that intelligent beings could choose a purpose so small, narrow, shallow, worthless. People who do not care for the welfare of any except themselves, or what is practically the same, their immediate relatives and friends, are a hindrance rather than a help to all good. The ignorant heathen, who bows to a god of wood or stone, deserves not nearly so much to be condemned as he who makes a god of himself. Selfishness and selfishness are the two great sins of the corrupted human heart. They are closely related and associated. Both, alike, separate us from God—Immanuel Messenger.

There is nothing in the world or in the human disposition that kills as many people as does worry. It is the secret cause of the condition of nine-tenths of the sick people, the nervous folk, the insane. It makes men weak and cowardly, it makes women hysterical, and, saddest of all, it turns away the heart from God and bids us worship the idol of despair. Sometimes people excuse it by saying they cannot help it; sometimes they say they were born with anxious dispositions. But no matter for the cause, or the physical or metaphysical explanation of the condition, we know two great facts; one is that it is wrong to worry; the other, that we can conquer the temptation to worry if we try. It is wild and wicked for men and women to go on wearing themselves out, weakening their work and making themselves nuisances by anxious feelings and thoughts and words and habits.

Make no vain resolutions. The safest way is to strengthen yourself in every particular one with judgment, patience and ethical insight. Do not make any elaborate plans as to what you intend to do. A resolution once made is sacred; you cannot break it without committing sin. You can no more violate promises to self than you can those made to a stranger. Between the "objective you" that bears and suffers and the "subjective you" that sits and wills, there should be an inviolate compact. You that must suffer must obey when the master self commands. And when once the decree goes forth, let the subservient self be found always willing to respond.—American Hebrew.

The ragged youngster of the street may in a few years be the leader of the new nation, and the treatment he receives now may determine what kind of a leader he will be. What he may become no man can tell. There is scarcely a limit to his possibilities. Therefore, we should respect childhood for what it may become as we respect age for what it is.—Christian Instructor.

A GIPPE coughs often continue for months and sometimes lead to the fatal results after the patient is supposed to have passed the danger point. FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR affords positive protection and security from these COUGHS. J. C. Gilbert.

ODD SUMMER HOUSE.

Novel Structure Erected on Sullivan's Island, South Carolina.
Capt. John H. Devereaux has refused an offer of $300 for the jawbone of a whale which was killed in the harbor of Charleston, S. C., about fourteen years ago. The jaws measure twelve feet each, and are used as a grand entrance to a summer house on Sullivan's Island made from the bones of the whale. The house is prettily arranged, and vines which cover it give a most handsome appearance. Tea was served in this little house the other afternoon, and the fact was brought out then that Capt. Devereaux had refused the offer for the bones. The whale was considered the largest of its kind that ever drifted to southern waters. Capt. Devereaux is the supervising architect for the government at Charleston, and it was his idea to build the arbor with the most artistic effect. Back of the main entrance the ribs have been put up as a covering and a support for the vines and the large bones of the whale's tail is used as the throne seat in the arbor. The bones are thoroughly bleached and superstitious negroes who have to pass that portion of the island on moonlight nights go by at a double speed. There is something about the quaint object which imparts terror to the ignorant negroes. There is a seating capacity for twenty-five persons in the whalehouse, and the vestibule of the spinal column forms the main seats.

RAILWAY MEN'S WATCHES.

Comptroller Examination to Insure Their Excellence.

In order to minimize one of the sources of danger in operating his line, the Union Pacific Railroad company has just put into force a new order. It has instructed all of its engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen, train baggage men, station agents and telegraph operators to submit their watches to a weekly comparison with standard timepieces and to a more thorough examination every quarter. The comparison and examination are to be conducted by a special inspector, who alone may set and regulate the watches. The possessors may wind, but not set or regulate them. Otherwise they could conceal from the inspector all deficiencies. If a railway employee already has a watch regarding which he is ready to testify he has had it six months and that it keeps within thirty seconds of correct time a week, the inspector may allow him to retain it "on trial," says the New York Tribune. But unless it conforms to that standard he must get a new one. A choice among seven different American watches is permitted, but the minimum grade allowed is a fifteen-jeweled patent regulator adjusted watch. A man may have anything better than this if he wants and can get it. The weekly certificate of comparison and the quarterly certificate of examination must be turned in by each employee to his superior officer in his particular branch of the service, and these superiors are held responsible for the prompt presentation of the certificates to headquarters. If an employee leaves his watch to be repaired and takes another temporarily he must present the latter for inspection and approval before he can rely upon it in the performance of his regular duties. It is said that the employees are dissatisfied with the order, and even think of defying the company.
